

4T|Phys 2023 | CALL FOR POSTERS

Poster Presentations are Welcome at the 4T|Phys Human Physiology Conference

This is your opportunity to offer your experience, expertise, and insights to researchers in your and related fields. Poster presentations add value for you and other attendees! Share your research with peers and learn from others. Many attendees tell us that being selected for a poster presentation helps facilitate the funding approval process.

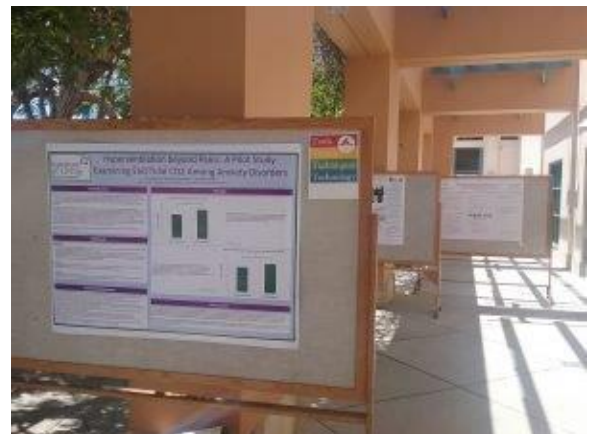

Join BIOPAC for three days of how-to, small-group human physiology workshops, presented by renowned experts at UCSB in Santa Barbara, CA July 17-19, 2023

Help Justify Your Attendance

Presenting a poster at the BIOPAC 4T|Phys Conference helps justify the time and cost for you to attend the conference. Not only are you attending the conference to learn new techniques and strategies, but your institution is also gaining the recognition it deserves for innovative research findings.

Gain Recognition

All posters will be displayed for attendees, exhibitors, and presenters to see in the conference central viewing area. This area is co-located with the technology showcase and morning/afternoon refreshment area, so a high level of traffic is ensured. Posters are also open during lunch breaks.

How to Submit a Poster

Any registered 4T|Phys Conference attendee may present a poster. Posters should be landscape orientation, with maximum dimensions of 48 inches wide (3 feet) x 36 inches high (4 feet). Please note: all posters are subject to approval by 4T|Phys conference organizers. Only one poster presentation is allowed per registered attendee/author.

- Please submit your poster abstract for review.
- You will be notified by the Poster Review Committee if your presentation has been selected.

Meet the deadline: June 15, 2023

Submit your Abstract and Request to Display a Poster by June 15, 2023. You will receive a confirmation once the application is reviewed and approved for presentation. Space is limited, so we strongly encourage early submission.

Cost

Poster submissions are free! There is no cost to display posters for projects from universities or academic research organizations. Commercial organizations should contact BIOPAC (4T@biopac.com) for commercial poster pricing.
